MILESTONE

Foreword

College life at its best is a mixture of sunshine and shadow, and in this book the Staff has endeavored to give a true retrospect of the college life in all its phases. So, if in the dim haze of the distant future when the winter of life has come and memory's vision is dimmed by time, you take this volume from its place among others, and reveling through its pages, live again your happy days at Eastern, and meet again your friends and old acquaintances and shed a tear of dear recollections, then our efforts will not have been in vain.

Go Teach

"Go teach," said He of Gallilee,
"Enlighten every man."
And thus you see as teachers, we
But follow out His plan.
We go not forth for fame to seek,
For honor, power nor pelf;
We, like our Model must be meek,
And each deny himself.

For life means more than riches gained,
Or honors to be sought—
Some greater good must be attained,
Else living comes to naught.
Our land from darkness must be freed
Through Christian education,
'Gainst crime and error, graft and greed,
Our teachers lead the Nation.

Their hearts aglow with love of truth
That in each bosom burns,
They guide the lives of tender youth
Which for such guidance yearns.
To love of home, of native land
And Him who loves us all,
They must be led by teacher's hand,
Lest our country fall.

Such consciousness of duty clear,
Which we must need fulfill,
Should make each heart yet more sincere
And strengthen, too, the will;
The will to work, the will to win,
To suffer for the right;
The will when down to rise again
And wage a valiant fight.

What though the world may not accord
Us fortune, fame, or gold?
Still we shall earn a sure reward
Whose value is untold.
Our names in fame shall be enrolled
And seen and felt and heard,
Through lives that we may shape and mould
In thought, in deed, in word.

Then in the fields of fertile soil—
The tender hearts of youth—
As faithful teachers we would toil
To sow the seeds of truth.
When harvest brings, or soon, or late,
For us a well-earned rest,
The boys and girls we educate
Will rise to call us blest.

Class History

Stay! The muse of history bids us speak. Little is known of the history of our class before entering Eastern. This period may well be termed the prehistoric period of our existence. We were nomadic and wandering aimlessly from place to place, until one day we caught the vision of the little child riding by on a cloud crying, "Piper, pipe a song to me."

We heeded this appeal of the children of Kentucky and September of the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two found a motley but enthusiastic group of two hundred and sixty-five Juniors pouring in upon the campus of Eastern. Here we pitched our tents and decided to give up our nomadic wanderings and settle down in pursuit of that vision which had summoned us.

It was not long, however, before we discovered that our new abode was already inhabited by three different tribes.

At first these natives seemed friendly but it was not long before we were visited nightly in Burnam, Sullivan and Memorial by marauding bands from one of these tribes. Necessity therefore demanded that we organize ourselves under some form of government for self-protection. This we did and then made war on the Seniors. We prayed to the god of war, and mischievous Juno came to our rescue and lead us to a glorious victory In Eastern we hold the distinction of inaugurating the renowned "TUG of WAR."

On the other hand, we did not allow the moss to grow over us in regard to other college activities. The Varsity team which went out and so nobly won the championship was strongly re'nforced by warriors from the Junior class. One member of our class not only won the declamatory contest at Eastern, but also in Eastern Kentucky.

We would not have you dwell upon our achievements "for heraldry and glory lead but to the grave."

Having followed the battle-stained flag of purple and gold against overwhelming odds, we as Seniors have furled our flag and folded our tents on the sunny summit of "Mount Graduation."

Still taking part in the athletic and the other activities which the students are devoted to we took our places in the "Senior Corner" with the dignity which befitted the exalted position we assumed.

Our stay at Eastern has been filled with many pleasant memories and happy incidents which will never be forgotten. We have become attached to all that pertains to the common good of Eastern. In these two years we have learned to know and love the members of our Faculty. In response to the call of the little children we have replied, "Yea, we come."

We have learned that true greatness is devotion to duty and that the biggest purpose of college training is the anticipation of a grander citizenship.

The bonds of our love of country have been strengthened, and the old ideals and motives have given place to new and more serviceable ones.

Finally when our battles have been fought, when we have taken our rebuffs to heart, we hope that in future years we shall ever reflect credit upon Eastern Kentucky's greatest Teachers College.

The Juniors

The glory of autumn was resplendent in all its gorgeous hues. Nature never appeared more sublime than it did on that bright September morn when there arrived on the campus of Old Eastern a group of three hundred spirited, ambitious, loyal, college students familiarly known as "Juniors."

We were in ecstacies over the promising future that lay before us, and now upon nearing the close of a most enjoyable and successful year, it is a genuine pleasure to reflect upon that never to be forgotten occasion and recall our resolve to write for the "Junior" class an indelible record on the pages of Eastern's history.

In the selection of our president, the highest honor within our gift was conferred upon Mr. Clinton Fugate, an able executive and courageous leader; and the same excellent judgment used in the choosing of our president was exercised in the selection of our other officers.

In athletics the "Juniors" played a prominent role. The call for football was heard echoing over the campus and the summons was answered most enthusiastically by the boys. The girls' basket ball squad was composed chiefly of "Juniors;" led by their able "Junior" captain, Miss Renick, the team made an enviable record. Nothing in Eastern's athletics has ever been more sensational than the brilliant performance of the "Junior" girls' class basket ball team. With little practice they stepped out on the floor and won the championship. The "Junior" boys were never beaten in a championship match. Our esteemed and popular captain, Curtis Mathis, with deepest class devotion, courageously led his men to a brilliant success, and brought to us the laurels of victory.

Though class spirit is everywhere prevalent in the "Junior" ranks, we do not permit it to exceed our devout and undying love for Old Eastern, and when we shall have attained the honors of Seniorhood and are counted among the Alumni we shall look back with pleasure and say we were loyal to the cause of our Alma Mater; and may we add that as the waters of time flow swiftly on there will never float on its mighty bosom a boat manned by a more loyal crew than the present class of '25, then, when our boat shall have anchored at the isle of our golden dreams and we step upon the shore of our profession, we shall look back with pride and say we were members of the class of '25.

"Hark! Ye People"

The "Freshman" Class wishes to acquaint ye with itself, its consequence, its significence and its unceasing activity. First, it is but duty to remind ye that "Great oaks from little acorns grow," and though we are but acorns now, being yet in the first stage of our greatness, still a greater glory beckons us ever onward and upward. Before us are ever the highest ideals more greatly to be desired.

In this year the "Freshies" have made a contribution to the athletic life of Eastern; three of its members having been worth while players on the basket ball team and other members engaged in football and track.

So here's to the "Freshies," the best of all at Eastern, and here's to ye a parting word:

"If you can't be a highway; be a trail,
If you can't be a sun; be a star.
It isn't by size that you win or fail,
Be the best of whatever you are.

Forward! The command has been given and we are marching ahead. We have turned our faces toward the front, and until we have completed our task and overcome the obstacles which confront us, we must continue our advance.

Remembering the Biblical injunction, "They know not what they do," we have overlooked the haughtiness and superior air of the Seniors, the pretended wisdom of the Juniors and the assuming importance of the Sophomores. We feel sure that with the educational enthusiasm and congenial fellowship which exists in this class, every member will be found at the top of the ladder.

The above remarks concerning our class for the school year of 1923-24 speak much for the officials of the class. Our President, Mr. Boyd Bullock, has made an enviable record; the Vice President, Mr. James Cawood, is an all-around student, but excels in athletics. The secretary, Mr. Fletcher Sparks, has contributed much to the class by his unusual originality on numerous occasions; Miss Fannie Sparks, our musician, has shown a rare "Class Spirit" and it has been a genuine delight and inspiration to have had one so talented with us.

We have participated and won and lost in every activity on the campus. Now, we pass our accomplishments to the "Freshman" Class of next year, trusting that they will serve as an inspiration to all who may follow in our footsteps at Old Eastern.

ATHLETICS

Football

Although the Eastern football eleven in the 1923 season won but three games and tied one in nine starts, the season is considered a success due to the fact that Coach G. N. Hembree developed from only mediocre prospects at the start a team which in the latter part of the year did credit to the institution.

The last two games were won in easy fashion after one of the teams defeated, Union College, had held Eastern to a tie score earlier in the season. Coach Hembree instilled a fighting spirit in his gridiron warriors which showed to such advantage in the closing games of the year. About mid-season the squad saw that only hard work was the solution of the problem. This was put over in fine style by the men.

Football will never be a crowning success at Eastern until the four year college course recently established is taken in straight years by the athletes. Each year Coach Hembree faces the task of developing an eleven from practically green material. There very rarely appears as many as four letter men in camp at the start of football training in the fall. For the past few years Coach Hembree has developed creditable elevens, only to have his men leave the following year to teach or enter some other school. Some, however, come back and since the condition is improving, Eastern is expected to have an eleven soon which will do credit to many larger colleges.

Eastern opened the season at Lexington last fall with the University of Kentucky first year men. With but one week of practice, the Eastern eleven was swamped under a 53 to 0 score, although the material of the two squads could be rated about the same. Later in the year the Centre Freshmen twice defeated their rivals at State, while Eastern held the Centre Looies to a 21 to 12 score. Eastern played a strong game against the fast Kentucky Wesleyan team which was held to a 9 to 0 victory. The Thanksgiving game closed the season in which Eastern defeated Union College 19 to 0.

Eastern was said to have two of the best ends in the state in Carrol Word and Barnett Fox in a statement made after the Centre game by the coach of that freshman eleven. These two held down the wings with credit all season. Combs, Crum and Smith did most of the work at the tackles, although the latter played several games at guard. Combs developed into a real lineman. The guards were held down by Ba lard, Mandt and Perry. At centerl Coach Hembree worked McGlothin most of the season, using Mandt there when McGlothin was kept out of the game two weeks by injuries.

In the backfield Coach Hembree used Clouse, Hurst, Mainous, Stone, Gergory, Denny and Moberly. The latter showed the best football ability but quit school after the first two games. Stone and Gregory alternated at quarterback, while Clouse called signals for a while. Clouse played regular at fullback. Mainous, Denny and Hurst held down the halves.

The 1924 season is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of football at Eastern. The number of letter men in camp is expected to number well above the average. The squad will get down to work several weeks before school opens. A heavy schedule is being arranged for the Eastern eleven which means that much work is in store for the athletes and officials at Eastern. The results of the 1923 season are as follows:

Eastern 0–State Freshmen 53.

Eastern 0–Georgetown Frosh 2.

Eastern 6–Cumberland College 26.

Eastern 0–Kentucky Wesleyan 9.

Eastern 6–Union College 6.

Eastern 1–Transy Reserves 0.

Eastern 12–Centre Frosh 21.

Eastern 18–Transy Reserves 7.

Eastern 19–Union College 0.

Boys' Basket Ball Team

Boys' Basket Ball

Closing the season with seven straight victories for a total of twelve wins compared with seven defeats, the Eastern basket ball quintet in 1923-24 had a most successful year. With six victories and no defeats in the Association the Eastern five established a clear claim to the E. K. I. A. A. banner and championship. Then, too, the Eastern five played some of the leading teams in the neighboring states, something not done in previous years.

Besides winning the E. K. I. A. A. championship Coach Hembree's men scored two victories over their ancient rivals, Western Normal, and held Centre to a 30 to 27 score. The Colonels later in the S. I. A. A. tourney won their way into the finals. In three games with Tennessee teams Eastern defeated Milligan and East Tennessee Normal but lost to Maryville College. Eastern's largest score was run up against the Oneida Baptist Institute. It was 52 to 11. The Valparaiso team from Indiana was the best team that Eastern faced, beating the Eastern five 48 to 17. This team was one of the leading ones in central United States.

For the season Eastern scored 552 points compared with 447 for the opponents. Of the Eastern total Captain Denny led in scoring with 145 points to his credit for the season. Talton Stone ran him a close second with 137 points for the season. Kelly Hampton playing in the game in the last half of the season scored 116 points and was high point man for that period. These three worked excellently well together in the closing games of the season. Shirley Clouse played in most of the games, scoring 88 points during the season. Captain Denny played at center all season and the others named above at the forwards.

The defense was held up by Carrol Word, Marshall Hurst, Beckham Combs and Clayton Mainous. The first named playing at running guard scored 33 points in the first eleven games before he was taken ill which kept him out the remainder of the season. Then the major portion of the work was left to Hurst and Combs, both of whom held up the defense in an excellent manner. At times each played brilliantly but both played steady games at each appearance.

With a wealth of material on hand Coach Hembree had quite a hard time in selecting a first five. The glorious finish of seven straight wins was due to several reasons. One was the addition of Kelly Hampton, another was the improvement of Stone's dribbling to almost perfection and probably the greatest was the skillful management of the team by Coach G. N. Hembree. He worked faithfully with the squad all season and his results are quite evident from the fact that his team drew larger crowds and was by far the most successful in the history of Eastern.

Plans are already under way for an even better season next year. Practically all of the members of the past season's squad will return to Eastern. Besides those named above others who took part in games for Eastern are Marshless Hampton, Dewey Hampton, and Hall. The results of all the games played are as follows:

Baseball

Due to the fact that the length of the school year at Eastern had been cut several weeks when the semester plan was adopted at the beginning of the year, a write-up of the 1923 season is being used this year. A banner baseball year is expected, however, at Eastern in 1924.

A jinx followed the baseball nine in 1923 all year. Various mishaps kept star players out of the game which greatly handicapped Coach Hembree's men. The team, however, showed good form in winning half of the eight games played. The best showing was made at Winchester where Eastern defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 4 to 3 in a thrilling 12 inning game. Bill Stevens did the major portion of the twirling. He and Clayton Mainous, captain, were the most promising players on the squad. Several members of the 1923 squad were on hand for the 1924 season which is expected to be one of the most successful Eastern has experienced since the days when Earle Combs wore an Eastern uniform.

Girls' Basket Ball

In the season of 1923-24 the Eastern co-ed basket ball team established quite a record, winning 16 of 19 games played, annexing the undisputed championship of Eastern Kentucky and establishing some claim on the state title.

One game was played prior to the Christmas holidays with Louisville Normal which team was defeated 28 to 9. This was the first of nine straight victories won by the Eastern girls. Then an unexpected setback was handed Eastern by Western Normal which so upset Coach Hembree's girls that the next game was dropped to Peabody Teachers College. Six straight games were then rung up, including a brilliant 18 to 17 victory over Transylvania in the closing minutes of play. The closing game of the season was a 19 to 17 win over Cumberland College which clinched the eastern Kentucky title.

In all six games played with Eastern Intercollegiate Association teams the Eastern girls were victorious, finishing with an Association record of six wins and no defeats. This gave Eastern a clear claim to the E. K. I. A. A. banner.

In the state race the Eastern team figured as a strong contender. No other team played as many games as did Eastern, registered as large scores or met more strong teams. While it is true that the University of Kentucky girls won all six games played with Kentucky teams, they did not meet either Transylvania or Eastern, recognized by all critics as two of the strongest teams in the state.

For the season the Eastern girls rolled up a total of 445 points compared with 223 for their opponents, thus all but doubling Eastern's opponents' total. Of the Eastern points Miss Edna Young, star forward, registered 172, thus leading the individual college girl scorers in the state. Miss Elizabeth Renick, captain and center of the Eastern girls, scored a total of 148 points for the season. Both of these girls played the year before on the Ashland High team. They were the mainstays of the Eastern five this year and all-state calibre beyond a doubt. Misses Josephine Yates and Hazel Worley alternated at the other forward, with the former playing slightly more. Miss Yates tallied 41 points for the season and Miss Worley 46.

The guarding was done in a highly efficient manner by Misses Maude Knox, Edna Perkins and Evelyn Rice, the first two named being Coach Hembree's first pick. The Eastern girls' five was famous the state over for its excellent defense. Probably none could have worked better in this line with the team than Misses Knox and Perkins. Both played brilliantly at times while Miss Rice broke into several games to shine alongside them. The other members of the squad—Misses Nell Perkins, Carolyn Rice, Gertrude Elliott, Sallie Jo Bodkin, Valera McCabe and Evelyn Witham, deserve much credit for the success of the team. The results for the year are as follows:

Girls' Athletic Club

A Girls' Athletic Club was organized at Eastern in the school year of 1922-23 to foster and maintain the interest of a large number of girls in sportsmanship and school activities. The organization is composed of girls who have plenty of pep and zeal and who are able to make the work a great success. When the officers were elected, one was chosen from each class. Those elected were Dorothy Terrill, President; Edna Young, Vice President; Eula Creekmore, Secretary; Madeline Goff, Treasurer.

Since the Girls' Athletic Club will be responsible for the promotion of the events on field day, a committee of three members from each class was elected to assist in getting the work started. Those selected are as follows:

SENIORS—Flossie Green, Verna Lutes and Carolyn Rice.

JUNIORS—Elizabeth Renick, Hazel Worley and Amanda Hammonds.

SOPHOMORES—May Eastham, Vergie Vancleve and Madge Smith.

FRESHMEN—Fay Combs, Vergie Fraley and Virgie Hutchinson.

Girls' Field Day

The girls' field day was changed last year from an inter-society affair to a contest between the classes. In 1922 the Carpediem Society won the silver loving cup and in 1923 the Intermediate class won out. Any class to obtain permanent possession of the trophy must win the cup three successive years.

To win first place does not necessarily mean that that class has the best athletes. To win a class must make the highest average with the required per cent of that class taking part. Thus some who have no chance to score in individual meets take part in the field day in order to help their class win. For each event the requirements were for baseball, a full team of ten for the entire game; for volley ball, a full team of nine for the entire game; for each relay, sixteen girls from each class; for jumping, fifteen per cent of each class, the score of the jumpers to be divided by that number; for throwing, ten per cent of each class, the score to be divided by that number· for 75 yard dash, fifteen per cent of each class.

Each class selected captains who were in charge of each event as follows: Baseball—Elementary, Dorothy Cornelius; Intermediate, Amanda Hammonds; Junior, Dorothy Terrill; Senior, Jennie Ramsey. Running—Elementary, Miranda Miracle; Intermediate, Lucille Venable; Junior, Josephine Yates; Senior, Minerva McDaniel. Throwing—Elementary, Lucy Leedy; Intermediate, Madge Smith; Junior, Flossie Green; Senior, Thelma Owens; Volley Ball—Elementary, Clara Bruce; Intermediate, Sarah Murphy; Junior, Pearl Portwood; Senior, Ida Steele.

The Intermediates won five first places and the Juniors three. The Elementary and Senior classes failed to play their final baseball game as well as to have the required number signed up for the 75 yard relay. The judges recording sheets show excellent work by the Juniors in running and jumping events. The defeat of the Elementaries and Seniors in some respect was due to the fact that they did not have the required number in several events.

A party was given the winning Intermediate class in the gymnasium on the night of field day. Cakes won by the classes and delicious ices were served. The class winning the most first places in any one event was awarded a cake. These were donated by nine members of the faculty, Mrs. Mary B. Deane, Miss Rucie Miller, Miss Katherine Hammond, President T. J. Coates, H. L. Donovan, Marshall Brock, J. R. Robinson, I. H. Boothe and George Gumbert.

The total scores were Seniors 14, Juniors 19, Intermediates 35 and Elementaries 10.

The 1924 field day for girls will be in charge of the Girls' Athletic Club. Misses Katherine Hammond and Eliza Hughes of the physical education department, will direct the preparation and course of affairs on that day. The events decided upon are running high jump, running broad jump, girls' baseball, volley ball, 75 yard dash, stick relay, shot put, low hurdle and hop step jump.

The object of the society, as designated by the constitution, is to develop its members into a working understanding of parliamentary law; to create a better social fellowship; and develop the power of expression in the most impressive manner. Since the founding of our society in the fall of 1922, this object has been attained to a very high degree; and today "Horace Mann" stands as one of the leading factors in college life at Eastern.

ALL HAIL! HORACE MANN.

(Tune "Dixie")

Hail, hail to thee, HORACE MANN, forever,
Forward march and backward never,
All hail! All hail! All hail! HORACE MANN!
Hear our voices ring and the chorus swell
As we sing to thee we love so well,
HORACE MANN! HORACE MANN! HORACE MANN!
Hail to thee!

The Roark Literary Society was organized at the beginning of the school year of 1922. The work of the society during that year was a pronounced success.

We feel that our success during the present year has placed the society on even a higher level. We are very fortunate to have as our society advisor Professor R. Dean Squires. His enthusiasm and "pep" has added much to the life of our organization.

It is in the literary society that we are able to get that training that will best fit us to do our work in our chosen field, here we enjoy that freedom of expression that is peculiar to such an organization.

There is more than the ordinary routine work that is worthy of mention; perhaps the outstanding features are the socials, hikes and picnics. All of these afford us the rare opportunity of instilling that group consciousness that is so vital to school life.

The Men's Club

The Men's Club of Eastern had its beginning in the fall of 1921 as a result of a conference between President Coates and Professor G. D. Smith, who later became advisor to the club. Men who appreciate true manliness and sterling worth have continually filled its ranks.

The purpose of the organization is to develop leadership, create and perpetuate fraternal relationship between its members, and secure acquaintance with parliamentary proceedings.

The Men's Club is purely democratic making no distinction of high or low, rich or poor; its members come by choice, and enjoy all the privileges consistent with parliamentary law.

The method of its work brings its members into close social contact establishing a real fellowship. Many questions, perplexing in nature and current in present day affairs, are debated. Every semester a mock trial is a marked event of the club. The moot court is conducted in the same order as a regular court. Such programs are excellent drill in legal procedure.

This is a real man's society, conducted so as to develop those noble virtues of independent thought, fearless expression, and courageous action on the vital problems of society.

Professor Smith has been self-sacrificing in giving much time to the organization. As an instigator of good times he has no equal.

The Little Theatre Club

Under the able supervision of its new director, Miss Pearl Buchanan, the Little Theatre Club is rapidly becoming an outstanding feature of the Campus activities of "Eastern."

On March 12, nine new applicants were admitted to membership in the Club. This gives us a good working force with sufficient dramatic material for the presentation of plays of diversified character.

Such an organization as The Little Theatre Club, provides a means for cultural and refined expression of the emotions; upholds ideals of the devotion to the artistic; makes it possible for everyone within the radius of its influence to become acquainted with that which is highest and best in art and literature; stimulates and creates a love for clean, inspiring and uplifting attitudes of thought and action, and encourages the writing and production of original plays.

The program for the year included the presentation of "The Finger of God," and "Duley" during the first semester, and several one-act plays during the second semester. The characters were admirably placed, and if one may accept in good faith the comments heard, they were the best plays that have been given since the organization of the Club. The study program of the Club has dealt with the various phases of costuming, lighting, makeup, casting and rehearsing of plays, the making of scenery and the manipulation of the miniature and puppet stages.

Eastern's Little Theatre Club is a member of the National organization and is, therefore, in constant touch with all that is newest and best along the line of "less commercial and better dramatic theatrical art."

The directors are exceedingly enthusiastic over the potential possibilities of this organization as a broadening influence in the intellectual and dramatic life of those who are within its reach. If their plans materialize, The Little Theatre Club of "Eastern" will soon be furnishing the upper grades and high schools of the district, advice and personal attention in the matter of selection of plays, costuming and the art of "make-up", as well as the staging and coaching of such plays. Miss Buchanan is especially desirous that such methods will result in the writing and production of original plays, dealing with phases of life among the people of the Eastern Kentucky Mountains.

The Club is rapidly taking on the air of a business organization, which is functioning in an orderly and worth while manner.
